Standards Common to All

Standard 1: Program Philosophy and Purpose

The subject matter preparation program is based on an explicit statement of program philosophy that expresses its purpose, design, and desired outcomes in relation to the Standards of Quality and Effectiveness for Single Subject Teaching Credential Programs. The program provides the coursework and field experiences necessary to teach the specified subject to all of California's diverse public school population. Subject matter preparation in the program for prospective teachers is academically rigorous and intellectually stimulating. The program curriculum reflects and builds on the State-adopted Academic Content Standards for K-12 Students and Curriculum Frameworks for California Public Schools. The program is designed to establish a strong foundation in and understanding of subject matter knowledge for prospective teachers that provides a basis for continued development during each teacher's professional career. The sponsoring institution assigns high priority to and appropriately supports the program as an essential part of its mission.

Required Elements

- 1.1 The program philosophy, design, and intended outcomes are consistent with the content of the State-adopted Academic Content Standards for K-12 students and Curriculum Frameworks for California public schools.
- 1.2 The statement of program philosophy shows a clear understanding of the preparation that prospective teachers need in order to be effective in delivering academic content to all students in California schools.
- 1.3 The program provides prospective teachers with the opportunity to learn and apply significant ideas, structures, methods and core concepts in the specified subject discipline(s) that underlies the 6-12 curriculum.
- 1.4 The program prepares prospective single-subject teachers to analyze complex discipline-based issues; synthesize information from multiple sources and perspectives; communicate skillfully in oral and written forms; and use appropriate technologies.
- 1.5 Program outcomes are defined clearly and assessments of prospective teachers and program reviews are appropriately aligned.
- 1.6 The institution conducts periodic review of the program philosophy, goals, design, and outcomes consistent with the following: campus program assessment timelines, procedures, and policies; ongoing research and thinking in the discipline; nationally accepted content standards and recommendations; and the changing needs of public schools in California.

Standard 2: Diversity and Equity

The subject matter program provides equitable opportunities to learn for all prospective teachers by utilizing instructional, advisement and curricular practices that insure equal access to program academic content and knowledge of career options. Included in the program are the essential understandings, knowledge and appreciation of the perspectives and contributions by and about diverse groups in the discipline.

Required Elements:

- 2.1 In accordance with the Education Code Chapter 587, Statutes of 1999, (See Appendix A), human differences and similarities to be examined in the program include, but are not limited to those of sex, race, ethnicity, socio-economic status, religion, sexual orientation, and exceptionality. The program may also include study of other human similarities and differences.
- 2.2 The institution recruits and provides information and advice to men and women prospective teachers from diverse backgrounds on requirements for admission to and completion of subject matter programs.
- 2.3 The curriculum in the Subject Matter Program reflects the perspectives and contributions of diverse groups from a variety of cultures to the disciplines of study.
- 2.4 In the subject matter program, classroom practices and instructional materials are designed to provide equitable access to the academic content of the program to prospective teachers from all backgrounds.
- 2.5 The subject matter program incorporates a wide variety of pedagogical and instructional approaches to academic learning suitable to a diverse population of prospective teachers. Instructional practices and materials used in the program support equitable access for all prospective teachers and take into account current knowledge of cognition and human learning theory.

Standard 3: Technology

The study and application of current and emerging technologies, with a focus on those used in K-12 schools, for gathering, analyzing, managing, processing, and presenting information is an integral component of each prospective teacher's program study. Prospective teachers are introduced to legal, ethical, and social issues related to technology. The program prepares prospective teachers to meet the current technology requirements for admission to an approved California professional teacher preparation program.

Required Elements:

- 3.1 The institution provides prospective teachers in the subject matter program access to a wide array of current technology resources. The program faculty selects these technologies on the basis of their effective and appropriate uses in the disciplines of the subject matter program
- 3.2 Prospective teachers demonstrate information processing competency, including but not limited to the use of appropriate technologies and tools for research, problem solving, data acquisition and analysis, communications, and presentation.
- 3.3 In the program, prospective teachers use current and emerging technologies relevant to the disciplines of study to enhance their subject matter knowledge and understanding.

Standard 4: Literacy

The program of subject matter preparation for prospective Single Subject teachers develops skills in literacy and academic discourse in the academic disciplines of study. Coursework and field experiences in the program include reflective and analytic instructional activities that specifically address the use of language, content and discourse to extend meaning and knowledge about ideas and experiences in the fields or discipline of the subject matter.

Required Elements:

- 4.1 The program develops prospective teachers' abilities to use academic language, content, and disciplinary thinking in purposeful ways to analyze, synthesize and evaluate experiences and enhance understanding in the discipline.
- 4.2 The program prepares prospective teachers to understand and use appropriately academic and technical terminology and the research conventions of the disciplines of the subject matter.
- 4.3 The program provides prospective teachers with opportunities to learn and demonstrate competence in reading, writing, listening, speaking, communicating and reasoning in their fields or discipline of the subject matter.

Standard 5: Varied Teaching Strategies

In the program, prospective Single Subject teachers participate in a variety of learning experiences that model effective curriculum practices, instructional strategies and assessments that prospective teachers will be expected to use in their own classrooms.

Required Elements:

- 5.1 Program faculty include in their instruction a variety of curriculum design, classroom organizational strategies, activities, materials, and field experiences incorporating observing, recording, analyzing and interpreting content as appropriate to the discipline.
- 5.2 Program faculty employ a variety of interactive engaging teaching styles that develop and reinforce skills and concepts through open-ended activities such as direct instruction, discourse, demonstrations, individual and cooperative learning explorations, peer instruction, and student-centered discussion.
- 5.3 Faculty development programs provide tangible support for subject matter faculty to explore and use exemplary and innovative curriculum practices.
- 5.4 Program faculty use varied and innovative teaching strategies, which provide opportunities for prospective teachers to learn how content is conceived and organized for instruction in a way that fosters conceptual understanding as well as procedural knowledge.
- 5.5 Program coursework and fieldwork include the examination and use of various kinds of technology that are appropriate to the subject matter discipline.

Standard 6: Early Field Experiences

The program provides prospective Single Subject teachers with planned, structured field experiences in departmentalized classrooms beginning as early as possible in the subject matter program. These classroom experiences are linked to program coursework and give a breadth of experiences across grade levels and with diverse populations. The early field experience program is planned collaboratively by subject matter faculty, teacher education faculty and representatives from school districts. The institution cooperates with school districts in selecting schools and classrooms for introductory classroom experiences. The program includes a clear process for documenting each prospective teacher's observations and experiences.

Required Elements:

- 6.1 Introductory experiences shall include one or more of the following activities: planned observations, instruction or tutoring experiences, and other school based observations or activities that are appropriate for undergraduate students in a subject matter preparation program.
- 6.2 Prospective teachers' early field experiences are substantively linked to the content of coursework in the program.
- 6.3 Fieldwork experiences for all prospective teachers include significant interactions with K-12 students from diverse populations represented in California public schools and cooperation with at least one carefully selected teacher certificated in the discipline of study.
- 6.4 Prospective teachers will have opportunities to reflect on and analyze their early field experiences in relation to course content. These opportunities may include field experience journals, portfolios, and discussions in the subject matter courses, among others.
- 6.5 Each prospective teacher is primarily responsible for documenting early field experiences. Documentation is reviewed as part of the program requirements.

Standard 7: Assessment of Subject Matter Competence

The program uses formative and summative multiple measures to assess the subject matter competence of each candidate. The scope and content of each candidate's assessment is consistent with the content of the subject matter requirements of the program and with institutional standards for program completion.

Required Elements:

- 7.1 Assessment within the program includes multiple measures such as student performances, presentations, research projects, portfolios, field experience journals, observations, and interviews as well as oral and written examinations based on criteria established by the institution.
- 7.2 The scope and content of each assessment is congruent with the specifications for the subject matter knowledge and competence as indicated in the content domains of the Commission-adopted subject matter requirement.
- 7.3 End-of-program summative assessment of subject matter competence includes a defined process that incorporates multiple measures for evaluation of performance.
- 7.4 Assessment scope, process, and criteria are clearly delineated and made available to students when they begin the program.
- 7.5 Program faculty regularly evaluate the quality, fairness, and effectiveness of the assessment process, including its consistency with program requirements.
- 7.6 The institution that sponsors the program determines, establishes and implements a standard of minimum scholarship (such as overall GPA, minimum course grade or other assessments) of program completion for prospective single subject teachers.

Standard 8: Advisement and Support

The subject matter program includes a system for identifying, advising and retaining prospective Single Subject teachers. This system will comprehensively address the distinct needs and interests of a range of prospective teachers, including resident prospective students, early deciders entering blended programs, groups underrepresented among current teachers, prospective teachers who transfer to the institution, and prospective teachers in career transition

Required Elements:

- 8.1 The institution will develop and implement processes for identifying prospective Single Subject teachers and advising them about all program requirements and career options.
- 8.2 Advisement services will provide prospective teachers with information about their academic progress, including transfer agreements and alternative paths to a teaching credential, and describe the specific qualifications needed for each type of credential, including the teaching assignments it authorizes.
- 8.3 The subject matter program facilitates the transfer of prospective teachers between post-secondary institutions, including community colleges, through effective outreach and advising and the articulation of courses and requirements. The program sponsor works cooperatively with community colleges to ensure that subject matter coursework at feeder campuses is aligned with the relevant portions of the State-adopted Academic Content Standards for K-12 Students in California Public Schools.
- 8.4 The institution establishes clear and reasonable criteria and allocates sufficient time and personnel resources to enable qualified personnel to evaluate prospective teachers' previous coursework and/or fieldwork for meeting subject matter requirements.

Standard 9: Program Review and Evaluation

The institution implements a comprehensive, ongoing system for periodic review of and improvement to the subject matter program. The ongoing system of review and improvement involves university faculty, community college faculty, student candidates and appropriate public schools personnel involved in beginning teacher preparation and induction. Periodic reviews shall be conducted at intervals not exceeding 5 years.

Required Elements:

- 9.1 Each periodic review includes an examination of program goals, design, curriculum, requirements, student success, technology uses, advising services, assessment procedures and program outcomes for prospective teachers.
- 9.2 Each program review examines the quality and effectiveness of collaborative partnerships with secondary schools and community colleges.
- 9.3 The program uses appropriate methods to collect data to assess the subject matter program's strengths, weaknesses and areas that need improvement. Participants in the review include faculty members, current students, recent graduates, education faculty, employers, and appropriate community college and public school personnel.
- 9.4 Program improvements are based on the results of periodic reviews, the inclusion and implications of new knowledge about the subject(s) of study, the identified needs of program students and school districts in the region, and curriculum policies of the State of California.

Standard 10: Coordination

One or more faculty responsible for program planning, implementation and review coordinate the Single Subject Matter Preparation Program. The program sponsor allocates resources to support effective coordination and implementation of all aspects of the program. The coordinator(s) foster and facilitate ongoing collaboration among academic program faculty, local school personnel, local community colleges and the professional education faculty.

Required Elements:

- 10.1 A program coordinator will be designated from among the academic program faculty.
- 10.2 The program coordinator provides opportunities for collaboration by faculty, students, and appropriate public school personnel in the design and development of and revisions to the program, and communicates program goals to the campus community, other academic partners, school districts and the public.
- 10.3 The institution allocates sufficient time and resources for faculty coordination and staff support for development, implementation and revision of all aspects of the program.
- 10.4 The program provides opportunities for collaboration on curriculum development among program faculty.
- 10.5 University and program faculty cooperate with community colleges to coordinate courses and articulate course requirements for prospective teachers to facilitate transfer to a baccalaureate degree-granting institution.

Standards for Social Science

Standard 11: Overall Quality of Program Content

In the program, each prospective history/social science single subject teacher studies and learns subjects required by Ed. Code Section 51210 and incorporated in the History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (1998) for grades 6 – 12, and the History-Social Science Framework for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (2001). The program includes coursework taught by appropriate faculty and field experiences that address the ideas, strategies and techniques essential to teaching the social sciences at the grade level of the authorization of the basic credential.

Required Elements

- 11.1 In the program, prospective teachers complete a series of required courses that include comprehensive coverage of the academic content/subjects of the state adopted K-12 student academic content standards and frameworks for California public schools.
- 11.2 The content of the program is based on contemporary research and published literature in history and the social sciences.
- 11.3 Prospective teachers examine the significance of eras, events, individuals, issues, paradigms, concepts and values in history and the social sciences.
- 11.4 In the program, prospective teachers select, integrate, and translate the content and methods of investigations of history and social sciences.
- 11.5 The faculty demonstrates teaching that models exemplary practices such as discussion, debate, role-playing, simulation and co-operative learning for their students.
- 11.6 The faculty meets academic requirements as determined by the university, and is actively involved in scholarly and professional activities in the social sciences. Programs also display coherence and continuity.
- 11.6 Required or elective courses in the program include appropriate lower division and upper division studies in each major subject area.

Standard 12: Emphasis and Depth of Study

Each program emphasizes knowledge aligned with the History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (1998) for grades 6 – 12, the History-Social Science Framework for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (2001) and the current Subject Matter Requirements. The prospective teacher must complete a broad range of course work in the required disciplines of history, economics, political science and geography.

Required elements

- 12.1 The program requires prospective teachers to successfully complete economics course work that includes scarcity and decision-making, incentives, voluntary exchange, U.S. product and labor markets in a global setting, economic data, and government's economic role, with an emphasis on historical and contemporary international economic issues and problems.
- 12.2 The program requires prospective teachers to successfully complete coursework in United States history and geography, including comprehensive surveys and concentrated studies of selected historical periods after the founding of the nation.
- 12.3 The program requires prospective teachers to successfully complete coursework in World History (western and non-western), including comprehensive surveys and concentrated studies of selected historical periods.
- 12.4 The program requires prospective teachers to successfully complete coursework that develops knowledge of major geographic themes including location, place, human-environmental interaction, movement and region.
- 12.5 The program requires prospective teachers to successfully complete coursework that includes study of the fundamental principles of American democratic institutions, with emphasis on the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, political theory and the comparative study of governments.
- 12.6 The program requires prospective teachers to successfully complete coursework that includes California history, geography, government, and economics.
- 12.7 The program provides prospective teachers with the opportunities in their coursework to have informed discussions of historical and contemporary issues.

Standard 13: Integration of Studies

The program includes the integrative study of world and United States history, economics, political science and geography. The program emphasizes relationships among the major themes and concepts of these disciplines. The program requires prospective teachers to learn and apply methods of inquiry, analysis and interpretation that are used in history and the social science disciplines as identified in the History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (1998) for grades 6 – 12, and the History-Social Science Framework for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (2001).

Required Elements

- 13.1 The program requires each prospective teacher to examine systematically the major concepts, themes and processes in history, the social sciences, and the humanities and to examine similarities and differences among the different disciplines.
- 13.2 The program provides opportunities for prospective teachers to study issues selected from history and the social sciences through the humanities (including the arts).
- 13.3 Each prospective teacher in the program has multiple opportunities to learn and use appropriate methods of inquiry that characterize the study of history and the social sciences and to compare methodologies across several disciplines.

Standard 14: World Perspective

The program develops each prospective teacher's knowledge and understanding of the historical and contemporary experiences and interrelationships of people of Africa, the Americas, Asia, and Europe. Prospective teachers acquire world perspectives in studies of history, human culture, geography, government, and economics as outlined in the History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (1998) for grades 6 – 12, and the History-Social Science Framework for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (2001).

Required Elements

- 14.1 The program requires each prospective teacher to examine issues of world and regional interdependence and conflict in historical and contemporary studies of Africa, the Americas, Asia and Europe.
- 14.2 Studies address the influences of western civilization on the evolution of traditional and contemporary ideas in American political institutions, laws, and ideologies.
- 14.3 The subject matter program includes studies of non-western history, culture, geography, government, philosophy, religion, literature and art.
- 14.4 The program includes required study of world history, with emphasis on interrelationships between western and non-western cultures, intellectual and religious traditions, including the economic interdependence of world regions.

Standard 15: National Perspective

The program develops prospective teacher's knowledge and understanding of United States history, culture, geography, government, and economics, and of the evolving national experience as outlined in the History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (1998) for grades 6 – 12, and the History-Social Science Framework for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (2001).

Required Elements

- 15.1 The program requires each prospective teacher to examine the system of representative democracy in the United States and to examine the nature, structure and relationships of federal, state, local and tribal governments.
- 15.2 The program requires each prospective teacher to examine the major documents of American democracy including, but not limited to the Mayflower Compact, Declaration of Independence, Articles of Confederation, The Federalist Papers, The Constitution, the Bill of Rights and other amendments, Washington's Farewell Address and the Gettysburg Address.
- 15.3 The program requires each prospective teacher to study the economic system in the United States, with particular emphasis on the historical development of economic institutions and thought.
- 15.4 The program requires each prospective teacher to examine the changing role of the United States in world affairs.
- 15.5 The program exposes the prospective teacher to a wide range of perspectives on United States history, including major historiographic and social science interpretations.
- 15.6 The program requires prospective teachers to study political, social, and cultural developments in the United States.

Standard 16: State Perspective

The program develops each prospective teacher's knowledge and understanding of significant issues in the history, geography, culture, economics and government of California as outlined in the History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (1998) for grades 6 – 12, and the History-Social Science Framework for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (2001).

Required Elements

- 16.1 Each prospective teacher examines historical origins and critical issues in the context of the multi-cultural environment of California.
- 16.2 Each prospective teacher analyzes the historical background that led to the development of California's role in national, global, economic, technological, educational and cultural trends.
- 16.3 Each prospective teacher understands the critical role of water, transportation, energy, and environmental issues in California history and contemporary life.
- 16.4 Each prospective teacher discusses California's governmental systems, their structure, and the historical and contemporary use of direct democracy.
- 16.5 Each prospective teacher understands the historical origins and contemporary issues of migration and immigration and their impact on the state's development.

Standard 17: Citizen Perspective

The program develops each prospective teacher's knowledge and understanding of the rights and responsibilities of citizens in a representative democracy, as outlined in the History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (1998) for grades 6 – 12, and the History-Social Science Framework for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (2001).

Required Elements

- 17.1 The program enables each prospective teacher to gain an appreciation for the dignity of individuals and the importance of human rights.
- 17.2 The program requires each prospective teacher to understand individual rights and responsibilities under the federal, state, local and tribal governments.
- 17.3 The program requires each prospective teacher to learn about the strengths and weaknesses of democratic institutions and the conditions that encourage democracy.
- 17.4 The program requires each prospective teacher to examine the economic, social and political factors that affect civic participation.
- 17.5 The program provides opportunities for each prospective teacher to confront controversial issues in ways that respect the right of individuals to differ.
- 17.6 The program provides opportunities for prospective teachers to take active citizenship roles in society and to develop social and political skills, such as those to be gained by service learning.
- 17.7 The program requires each prospective teacher to be familiar with theories and current research on democracy.

Standard 18: Ethical Perspective

The program develops each prospective teacher's knowledge and understanding of ethics, philosophy and the role of religion in human experiences as outlined in the History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (1998) for grades 6 – 12, and the History-Social Science Framework for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (2001).

Required Elements

- 18.1 Each prospective teacher compares and contrasts the ethical, philosophical and religious ideas and beliefs in the major western and non-western cultures.
- 18.2 Each prospective teacher analyzes the role of religions in the formation and evolution of American society and culture, including issues specific to California.
- 18.3 Each prospective teacher demonstrates an understanding of scientific and religious perspectives on controversial issues.
- 18.4 Each prospective teacher understands the place of religion, philosophy, and ethical beliefs in American public education as defined by Constitutional principles and local, state and federal laws.

Standard 19: Teaching and Learning History/Social Sciences

The program exposes prospective teachers to a variety of teaching, learning, and assessment strategies that are appropriate to history/social science, including the appropriate use of instructional technology. Prospective teachers reflect on themselves as learners and explore ways in which historical and social science content and skills are conceived and organized for instruction as found in the History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (1998) for grades 6 – 12, and the History-Social Science Framework for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (2001).

Required Elements

- 19.1 The program provides opportunities for prospective teachers to learn how historical and social science content is conceived and organized for instruction.
- 19.2 The program provides opportunities for prospective teachers to reflect on different learning styles and their pedagogical implications for the teaching of history and the social sciences.
- 19.3 Each prospective teacher participates in discussions, debates, demonstrations, individual and group projects, cooperative learning activities, lectures, and other effective and appropriate approaches to learning history and the social sciences.
- 19.4 Each prospective teacher explores and uses various kinds of technology that are appropriate to the study of history and the social sciences.
- 19.5 Faculty development programs enable subject matter faculty to explore and use exemplary and innovative curriculum practices related to this standard.
- 19.6 The program exposes prospective teachers to a variety of assessment strategies to measure content, application and interpretation of that content.

Social Science Subject Matter Requirements

Part I: Content Domains for Subject Matter Understanding and Skill in History and Social Science

Domain 1. World History

Candidates demonstrate knowledge of the foundations and contexts of the world history contained in the History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (1998) as outlined in the History-Social Science Framework for California Public Schools: Kindergarten through Grade Twelve (2001) at a post secondary level of rigor. Candidates have both broad and deep conceptual understanding of the subject matter. Candidates study the people, major events, and issues of the major Western and non-Western civilizations from the origins of humankind to the present. In their study of world history, candidates apply higher-level thinking skills. These skills include, but are not limited to, the ability to analyze, interpret, compare and contrast, and synthesize information about significant historical issues in both written and oral presentation. Candidates utilize appropriate research skills and primary and secondary sources. They engage in historiographic thinking, and demonstrate awareness of multiple historical and geographic perspectives. Candidates appreciate the fundamental role geography plays in historical inquiry. They also understand and are able to apply the principles of political science and economics to historical analysis.

1.1 Ancient Civilizations

Candidates analyze the geography, history, and cultures of Africa, Eurasia, and the Americas from the origins of humankind to the decline of the Roman Empire. Candidates:

- a. Describe what is known of the early physical and cultural development of humankind from the Paleolithic era to the agricultural revolution, explaining how the methods of archaeology and anthropology contribute to the understanding of prehistory.
- b. Describe and analyze the impact of human interaction with the physical environment (e.g., climate, landforms, soils, water) on the development of the ancient cultures of Fertile Crescent (e.g. Sumerian, Babylonian, Hebrew), Persia, Egypt, Kush, Greece, India, China, Rome, and pre-Columbian America.
- c. Describe and analyze the religious, social, economic, and political structures of the ancient cultures of Mesopotamia, Persia, Egypt, Kush, Greece, India, China, Rome, and pre-Columbian America, and describe and analyze their intellectual, ethical, scientific, and artistic accomplishments and values.
- d. Describe and analyze the foundations of western political and philosophical thought in ancient Greek, Roman, and Judeo-Christian traditions.
- e. Describe and analyze the foundations of Asian political and philosophical thought found in ancient Chinese and Indian traditions (e.g., Legalism, Taoism, Confucianism, Hinduism, Buddhism).
- f. Describe and analyze the importance and patterns of expansion and contraction of empires, religions, and trade that influenced various regional cultures through the decline of the Roman Empire.

(History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: 6.1, 6.2, 6.3, 6.4, 6.5, 6.6, 6.7, 6.8, 7.1, 10.1)

1.2 Medieval and Early Modern Times

Candidates trace and analyze historical interpretations of cause and effect, sequence, and correlation of the social, cultural, political, economic, and technological developments in Europe, Africa, Asia, and the Americas from A.D.500-1790. Candidates:

- a. Analyze the impact of geography, including both human and physical features, on the development of medieval and early-modern Asian, African (including sub-Saharan), Middle Eastern, pre-Columbian American, and European civilizations.
- b. Trace the decline of the Western Roman Empire and the development of the Byzantine Empire, and analyze the emergence of these two distinct European civilizations and their views on religion, culture, society, and politics.
- c. Describe the role and expansion of Christianity in medieval and early modern Europe and the Middle East.
- d. Identify the basic tenets of Islam, and describe Islamic society and culture between the beginning of the 7th century and the end of the 18th century.
- e. Analyze the religious and secular contributions of Islam to European, African and Asian civilizations and the impact of medieval Muslim civilization on Asia, Africa, and Europe between the beginning of the 7th century and the end of the 18th century.
- f. Analyze and compare and contrast the development of feudalism as a social, political, and economic system in Europe and Japan.
- g. Compare and contrast the geographic, political, economic, religious, and social structures of pre-Columbian American civilizations in North and South America between AD 500 and the end of the 18th century.
- h. Analyze the geographic, political, economic, religious, and social structures of Asia and Africa between AD 500 and the end of the 18th century.
- i. Analyze the art, literature, music, science, and technology of the Renaissance and their diffusion and impact throughout Europe.
- j. Analyze the political and religious transformations caused by the Reformation and their impact on Europe.
- k. Analyze the historical developments of the Scientific Revolution and the ideas of the Enlightenment and their effects on social, religious, political, economic, and cultural institutions.

(History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: 7.1, 7.2, 7.3, 7.4, 7.5, 7.6, 7.7, 7.8, 7.9, 7.10, 7.11)

1.3 Modern World History

Candidates trace and analyze the major developments in the modern world from the late 18th century through the present. Candidates:

- a. Describe and evaluate the significance of the “Age of Exploration,” and the main ideas of the Enlightenment and their influences on social, political, religious, and economic thought and practice.
- b. Compare and contrast the American Revolution and the French Revolution and their enduring worldwide effects on political expectations for self-government and individual liberty.
- c. Describe and analyze the emergence of nationalism in the 18th and 19th centuries and its impact on Western, African, and Asian societies.
- d. Analyze the causes and effects of the Industrial Revolution, including its impact on science, technology, and society.
- e. Describe the emergence and origins of new theories regarding politics, economics, literature, and the arts in the 18th, 19th, and 20th centuries.
- f. Analyze the economic, political, social, and geographic factors contributing to the emergence of 19th-century imperialism, and evaluate its impact on Africa, Southeast Asia, China, India, Latin America, and the Philippines.
- g. Compare and contrast the social, political, and economic factors that influenced the Russian revolutions of 1905 and 1917.
- h. Analyze the origins and course of World War I and its effects on Europe and the rest of the world, including its impact on science, technology, the arts, politics, society, economics, and geography.
- i. Analyze the conflict between fascist and Marxist/communist ideologies, and the rise, goals, and policies of dictatorships and totalitarian governments between the two World Wars.
- j. Analyze the origins, course, and consequences of World War II, including the human cost of the war (e.g., the Holocaust), the resulting redrawing of boundaries, and the movement of peoples in Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Middle East.
- k. Analyze the international developments of the post-World War II era, including decolonization, nationalism, nation building, the development of international organizations, and global migration.
- l. Analyze the Cold War from its origins in the post-World War II 1940s to the dissolution of the Soviet Union in 1991, including its impact on social, cultural, political, economic, technological, and geographic developments in the world.
- m. Analyze the emergence of a global economy and its impact on the environment, epidemiology, and demographics, and the development and impact of the information, technology, and communications revolutions.
- n. Describe the causes and effects of genocide in the 20th century, including, but not limited to, the Armenian genocide, the Holocaust, and post-World War II “ethnic cleansing.”
- o. Explain and evaluate the strategic importance of the Middle East and the volatile political relations within the region.

(History-Social Science Content Standards for California Public Schools: 10.2, 10.3, 10.4, 10.5, 10.6, 10.7, 10.8, 10.9, 10.10, 10.11)

Domain 2. U.S. History

Part II: Subject Matter Skills and Abilities Applicable to the Content Domains in Social Science

Throughout their course of study, candidates for a teaching credential have opportunities to demonstrate their ability to apply higher-level thinking, writing, and presentation skills to their study of the social sciences. These skills include (but are not limited to) the ability to analyze, interpret, compare and contrast, and synthesize information about significant social, political, economic, and geographic issues in written, oral, and visual form. Candidates understand, critically assess, and use the different types of information found on the Internet and in archives, libraries, museums, and other repositories. They utilize chronological, spatial, interdisciplinary, and thematic thinking. They consider the impact of cultural, political, and ethical perspectives on issues and their interpretation.

Candidates understand the nature of historiography and the necessity of historical revision. They are able to distinguish valid arguments from fallacious arguments in historical interpretations. They identify bias and prejudice in historical interpretations, and evaluate major debates among historians concerning alternative interpretations of the past. Within this evaluation, candidates analyze authors' use of evidence and the distinctions between sound generalizations and misleading oversimplifications. They construct and test hypotheses; collect, evaluate, and employ data from multiple primary and secondary sources; and present it in oral, written, and visual forms.

Candidates demonstrate the connections, causal and otherwise, between particular historical events and larger social, cultural, economic, political, and technological trends. They recognize the complexity of historical causes and effects, including the limitations on determining historical causation. They interpret past events and issues within their historical context rather than solely in terms of present-day norms and values, while understanding that the past and its interpretations can have contemporary relevance. They understand the contingent nature of historical events and recognize that events could have taken other directions.

Candidates draw upon and apply methodologies and approaches of the social sciences to inform their study of history. With regard to methodology, candidates are familiar with issues of hypothesis generation and testing. They are also familiar with the strengths and weaknesses of different methods for gathering data, such as observation, archival research, content analysis, in-depth interviewing, surveys, and experimentation. Candidates understand both qualitative and quantitative methods of data analysis and their respective strengths and weaknesses.

Candidates are aware of the analytical perspectives characteristic of the social sciences as a whole. The social sciences all regard certain issues as fundamental, but address them quite differently. Key points of divergence include how to understand the relationship between the individual and society and whether to focus on culture and language or social structure and behavior. Candidates are able to address the ethical questions raised by social analysis, including such fundamental debates as relativism vs. universalism and individualism vs. collectivism.

Assembly Bill No. 537

CHAPTER 587

An act to amend Sections 200, 220, 66251, and 66270 of, to add Section 241 to, and to amend and renumber Sections 221 and 66271 of, the Education Code, relating to discrimination.

[Approved by Governor October 2, 1999. Filed with Secretary of State October 10, 1999.]

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL’S DIGEST

AB 537, Kuehl. Discrimination.

(1) Existing law provides that it is the policy of the State of California to afford all persons in public schools and postsecondary institutions, regardless of their sex, ethnic group identification, race, national origin, religion, or mental or physical disability, equal rights and opportunities in the educational institutions of the state.

Existing law makes it a crime for a person, whether or not acting under color of law, to willfully injure, intimidate, interfere with, oppress, or threaten any other person, by force or threat of force, in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him or her by the Constitution or laws of this state or by the Constitution or laws of the United States because of the other person’s race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, disability, gender, or sexual orientation, or because he or she perceives that the other person has one or more of those characteristics.

This bill would also provide that it is the policy of the state to afford all persons in public school and postsecondary institutions equal rights and opportunities in the educational institutions of the state, regardless of any basis referred to in the aforementioned paragraph.

(2) Existing law prohibits a person from being subjected to discrimination on the basis of sex, ethnic group identification, race, national origin, religion, color, or mental or physical disability in any program or activity conducted by any educational institution or postsecondary educational institution that receives, or benefits from, state financial assistance or enrolls students who receive state student financial aid.

This bill would also prohibit a person from being subjected to discrimination on the basis of any basis referred to in paragraph (1) in any program or activity conducted by any educational institution or postsecondary educational institution that receives, or benefits from, state financial assistance or enrolls students who receive state student financial aid.

(3) This bill would state that it does not require the inclusion of any curriculum, textbook, presentation, or other material in any program or activity conducted by an educational institution or a postsecondary educational institution and would prohibit this bill from being deemed to be violated by the omission of any curriculum, textbook, presentation, or other material in any program or activity conducted by an educational institution or a postsecondary educational institution.

To the extent that this bill would impose new duties on school districts and community college districts, it would impose a state-mandated local program.

(4) The California Constitution requires the state to reimburse local agencies and school districts for certain costs mandated by the state. Statutory provisions establish procedures for making that reimbursement, including the creation of a State Mandates Claims Fund to pay the costs of mandates that do not exceed $1,000,000 statewide and other procedures for claims whose statewide costs exceed $1,000,000.

This bill would provide that, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that the bill contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement for those costs shall be made pursuant to these statutory provisions.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This bill shall be known, and may be cited, as the California Student Safety and Violence Prevention Act of 2000.

SEC. 2. (a) The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(1) Under the California Constitution, all students of public schools have the inalienable right to attend campuses that are safe, secure, and peaceful. Violence is the number one cause of death for young people in California and has become a public health problem of epidemic proportion. One of the Legislature's highest priorities must be to prevent our children from the plague of violence.

(2) The fastest growing, violent crime in California is hate crime, and it is incumbent upon us to ensure that all students attending public school in California are protected from potentially violent discrimination. Educators see how violence affects youth every day; they know first hand that youth cannot learn if they are concerned about their safety. This legislation is designed to protect the institution of learning as well as our students.

(3) Not only do we need to address the issue of school violence but also we must strive to reverse the increase in teen suicide. The number of teens who attempt suicide, as well as the number who actually kill themselves, has risen substantially in recent years. Teen suicides in the United States have doubled in number since 1960 and every year over a quarter of a million adolescents in the United States attempt suicide. Sadly, approximately 4,000 of these attempts every year are completed. Suicide is the third leading cause of death for youths 15 through 24 years of age. To combat this problem we must seriously examine these grim statistics and take immediate action to ensure all students are offered equal protection from discrimination under California law.

SEC. 3. Section 200 of the Education Code is amended to read:

200. It is the policy of the State of California to afford all persons in public schools, regardless of their sex, ethnic group identification, race, national origin, religion, mental or physical disability, or regardless of any basis that is contained in the prohibition of hate crimes set forth in subdivision (a) of Section 422.6 of the Penal Code, equal rights and opportunities in the educational institutions of the state. The purpose of this chapter is to prohibit acts which are contrary to that policy and to provide remedies therefor.

SEC. 4. Section 220 of the Education Code is amended to read:

220. No person shall be subjected to discrimination on the basis of sex, ethnic group identification, race, national origin, religion, color, mental or physical disability, or any basis that is contained in the prohibition of hate crimes set forth in subdivision (a) of Section 422.6 of the Penal Code in any program or activity conducted by an educational institution that receives, or benefits from, state financial assistance or enrolls pupils who receive state student financial aid.

SEC. 5. Section 221 of the Education Code is renumbered to read:

220.5. This article shall not apply to an educational institution which is controlled by a religious organization if the application would not be consistent with the religious tenets of that organization.

SEC. 6. Section 241 is added to the Education Code, to read:

241. Nothing in the California Student Safety and Violence Prevention Act of 2000 requires the inclusion of any curriculum, textbook, presentation, or other material in any program or activity conducted by an educational institution or postsecondary educational institution; the California Student Safety and Violence Prevention Act of 2000 shall not be deemed to be violated by the omission of any curriculum, textbook, presentation, or other material in any program or activity conducted by an educational institution or postsecondary educational institution.

SEC. 7. Section 66251 of the Education Code is amended to read:

66251. It is the policy of the State of California to afford all persons, regardless of their sex, ethnic group identification, race, national origin, religion, mental or physical disability, or regardless of any basis that is contained in the prohibition of hate crimes set forth in subdivision (a) of Section 422.6 of the Penal Code, equal rights and opportunities in the postsecondary institutions of the state. The purpose of this chapter is to prohibit acts that are contrary to that policy and to provide remedies therefor.

SEC. 8. Section 66270 of the Education Code is amended to read:

66270. No person shall be subjected to discrimination on the basis of sex, ethnic group identification, race, national origin, religion, color, or mental or physical disability, or any basis that is contained in the prohibition of hate crimes set forth in subdivision (a) of Section 422.6 of the Penal Code in any program or activity conducted by any postsecondary educational institution that receives, or benefits from, state financial assistance or enrolls students who receive state student financial aid.

SEC. 9. Section 66271 of the Education Code is renumbered to read:

66270.5. This chapter shall not apply to an educational institution that is controlled by a religious organization if the application would not be consistent with the religious tenets of that organization.

SEC. 10. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.
